Notes

• Gross vs. net. The budget also deducts $160,000 in sales tax and $45,810 in property tax rebated to developers, and $326,331 in replacement tax passed to the police and fire pensions. Net tax revenue is $20,466,327.
• Fees excluded. Franchise fees ($150,000) are not counted as taxes. The $62,000 municipal infrastructure maintenance line, which the city's audits report as "Telecommunications tax", is counted as a tax (in Other taxes).
• General Fund only. Other funds also receive tax money: about $3.63M in pension property tax, $240,552 in pension replacement tax, about $1.18M in state motor fuel tax, and about $107,500 in TIF, special service area and capital fund property tax. These are left out because the pension levies match the pension expense lines in the police and fire budgets and could double-count.
